

Help Guide the Future of the Air National Guard

Does it seem like you are talking and no one is listening? Would it help if you had a representative to express your views for you? What better way than to send someone from your own state to represent you on issues that pertain to you? Share your impressive members with us and gain headquarters experience at your unit upon their return. While here, they will form working relationships with headquarters staff that will prepare them for future leadership positions, and enable them to make you look better. We have positions available for your personnel to excel! For details of these positions visit us on the World Wide Web at www.ang.af.mil and look for the Career Opportunities section. See You There!
