Position Description (Duty Description):

a. Serve as the Weather Mobilizations Manager to the ANG Weather Functional Area Manager. Member must be a fully qualified 1W05/71. Member will be responsible for supporting 50 weather units, which in-turn support 47 Army National Guard customers and 33 ANG Strike, ISR, SOF, AOG, ALCF and CRG customers. The applicant must possess excellent writing and briefing skills, as these will frequently be called upon to support the activation of the ANGRS Crisis Action Team and Emergency Relocation Group.

b. Assists in monitoring the unit-level UTC readiness status, identifying trends, deficiencies, and implementing corrective action. The applicant will also support the readiness efforts of the ANG Strike Weather program and coordinate support for deployed ANG strike units, Combatant Command weather operations in USAFE/AFRICOM, PACOM, and CENTCOM.

c. Identify all Army National Guard Division, BCT, eCAB mobilizations, exercises and mandatory training event and ensure coverage from tasked weather flights. Manage all planned and unplanned weather support opportunities offered by the various MAJCOMs and ensure maximum utilization of manpower resources is achieved. Coordinate training opportunities from Active Duty Air Force and Army formal training courses, consolidate pre-deployment training schedules, manage student quotas, and effectively utilize school slots.

d. In conjunction with the 131st Training Flight, ANG Wx Schoolhouse, the applicant will oversee the lifecycle of student curriculum, training standards, and schoolhouse standards of conduct.

e. Monitor equipment shortfalls, advocate for funding to upgrade equipment for weather operations, and facilitate turn-in of outdated equipment.

f. Coordinate Mobilization taskings among ACC/A3W, NGB/A21X, and tasked ANG Weather Flight to ensure Force Provider (ANG) is fulfilling COCOM requirements.

Justification:

ANG Weather Program Manager remains consistently task saturated supporting the needs of 50 units spread across 9 distinctly different mission sets. The Weather PM represents ANG interest at all HQ USAF A3W and MAJCOM FAM Level Officer and Enlisted meetings. Due to the absence of group or wing structure to support weather specific issues, the Weather PM often troubleshoots state and unit level coordination, managing day-to-day duties, and coordinates with sister-services; the Army National Guard and Active Army. Additionally, Weather PM manages all program resources for the entire ANG weather community and provides technical oversight to the program.

The additional manpower and backup functionality provided by a Weather Mobilizations Manager would significantly enhanced field unit support, shorten time-sensitive responses, and allow for stronger relationships inside the career field and with our supported customers.
