Position Description (Duty Description): Incumbent will perform as an NGB/A8FF action officer and be responsible for the preparation, validation, and distribution of Air National Guard strategic force planning and analysis of documents, to include flight-plans, and white papers, as approved and directed by the Director, Air National Guard. Incumbent will be responsible for force planning, analyzing and/or evaluating the risks, benefits, costs, and implications of formally integrating ANG personnel and resources across all Air Force mission areas and all Air Force components in different unit organizational and Total Force Initiatives (TFI) concepts. The incumbent will assist in developing the ANG position on these documents and coordinate ANG position with Headquarters Air Force and Air Force Major Commands. Will also serve as an advisor to Air National Guard senior staff and leadership in determining the most appropriate response in the areas of ANG force planning and TFIs. Additionally, will develop, coordinate and implement TFI instructions, briefings and initiative documentation. Will be expected to conduct meetings with various key personnel within the Air National Guard and outside agencies in order to discuss, evaluate, and determine courses of action relative to strategic force planning, force structure analysis, TFIs, and other long range plans. Must have a working knowledge of the functions and organization structure of the NGB, USAF, MAJCOMs, NAFs, TAGs, and ANG units.
