2. Position Description

QUALIFICATION OR KNOWLEDGE:
The NGB AFE-FAM should be a highly knowledgeable and qualified Non-commissioned Officer (NCO) or SNCO with an extensive background in aircrew protection for all types of weapon systems employed by the ANG. Individual should be familiar with all MAJCOM AFE programs, support equipment requirements, aircrew training requirements, aircrew chemical defense programs and ongoing operational testing and evaluation of aircrew protection and survival equipment. Top Secret clearance required per A3OS. Incumbent should be capable of performing duties with minimal supervision.

ROLES, RESPONSIBILITIES AND DUTIES:

- Alternate Subject Matter Expert to the ANG OPR for all Aircrew Flight Equipment matters outlined in AFI 11-301V1-5. Recommends, provides, and monitors supervision of the command Aircrew Flight Equipment program. Coordinates on all Redistribution Orders (RDO's) with MAJCOM equipment specialists ensuring accurate accountability of Air National Guard equipment assets in coordination with the equipment accountability elements (EAE) and command equipment management offices (CEMO). Provides command guidance in the care, use, control, and safeguarding of Aircrew Flight Equipment. Assists with coordination of all Aircrew Flight Equipment matters between ANG and gaining MAJCOMs. Implements ANG operational requirements IAW AFI 11-301. Monitors the introduction of new aircraft into the command inventory and conversions/modification programs of existing aircraft pertaining to the timely integration of the Aircrew Flight Equipment and training. Provides recommendations for the development and/or modification of the Aircrew Flight Equipment consistent with operational requirements. Recommends changes for the implementation of ANG requirements and monitors formal training courses and survival and continuation training (SCT) programs. Monitors/manages AFE time change forecasts, validating and ensuring AFLCMC/WNUS has accurate data to update sustainment requirements for future procurement of AFE items. Reviews, recommends, coordinates, and evaluates command Aircrew Flight Equipment requirements/request to the Functional Manager to ensure adequate and timely personnel action. Monitors equipment deficiency reports applicable to AFE equipment items ensuring process is completed in a timely matter.
- Acts as the gatekeeper for AFE master directory, sharepoint site, and Wing CC SAV requests. Conducts periodic AFE staff assistance visits to ANG units as requested by WG/CC's. These visits are to provide on the spot assistance, guidance, and follow up action on previously identified problem areas. Provides technical expertise to the AFE command superintendent and Career field functional manager on supplementing AF 11 301V1-5 series publications. Coordinates with MAJCOM/WNUS on draft technical order guidance as the AFE subject matter expert on equipment configurations. Serves as alternate at the ANG/A3 Air Force joint interagency and industry group, boards, task force, committees, and conferences convened to address research and development of Aircrew Flight Equipment. Provides input to the priority allocation and distribution instructions to NGB for Aircrew Flight Equipment and aircrew chemical warfare equipment. Annual AFE awards POC working with 75 wings and HAF career field manager on submission requirements and guidelines. MICT/SAC coordination with MAJCOM POC’s ensuring current updated Tiered level items are reflected in MICT. Reviews and recommends changes to Aircrew Flight Equip continuation/refresher training and emergency egress programs.

- Reviews, evaluates, and recommends changes to the Functional Manager formal training programs for aircrew. Reviews and recommends changes of AFE configuration management to aircraft FAM’s for AFI 11-2MDS series Addenda A’s in conjunction with updates to AFI 11-301V2.
